

11-318/A

February 16, 1959

I appreciated the kind letter you sent following our dinner here in Washington.

As a follow-up to that dinner, I would like to be reassured that you would feel free, if at any time you have ideas of projects which you consider to be within the scope of my work, to let me know about them. If the matter is one you would rather talk out than write about, I should be glad to drop in to see you on one of my fairly frequent visits to New York, or send a competent person to get your views.

Certainly we have no monopoly on ideas here in Washington, and I sometimes feel that administrative problems get the better of us and we do not have time to do as much thinking as we should -- hence this call to you as one of the experts in the field of dynamic thinking.

Sincerely,

Allen W. Dulles
